THE BANK OF FRANCE,-A condensed report of the Bank of France shows: possessed in specie on the 24th of December the round sum of one milliard, 668-600,000 of franes, before long it will reach two milliards. This bank has seventy-four branches, with fourteen more to be established shortly. Its running expenses were last year fourteen millions and a half, besides five millions paid to the government as taxes. The dividends were 200 franes a share of 4000 franes, or the handsome figure of 200 per cent. The circulation of the bills of the Bank of France tends more and more to equal the amount of its pecie, although they continue to be very popular. The bills of 5, 20 and 25 franes, issued since the war, are gradually disappearing. THE venerable Thurlow Weed has written a letter to the New York Tibune upon the question of excluding the Bible from the public schools, in which he expresses a regret that an old class-book of half a century ago, known as the "Beau-ties of the Bible," has been permitted to drop out of the schools. Mr. Weed says

The "Beauties of the Bible," of which the Rev. Erra Samson, of Hudson, is the author, was first published in 1800, and contains 282 pages. If this book should be restored to our achools, the best parts of Scripture would constitute an important branch of common school clucation. Our children, while learning to read, would become imbued with the spirit of Christianity. The present seems a fitting occasion to call the attention of celucation, would become imbued with the spirit of christianity. The present seems a fitting occasion to call the attention of celucation, in the present seems a fitting of the people under theeloquentGospel appeals of Mr. Moody and the tranquilizing harmonies of Mr. Sankey, the "Beauties of the Bible" should be introduced as a clease book in our common schools, thousands of our grateful children will rise up to thank those who conferred this bleasing upon them.

The London Timer has been discursing The Christianity. The present seems of the Bible should be introduced as a class book in our common schools, thousands of our grateful children will rise up to thank those who conferred this bleasing upon them.

On motion of Captain A. O. Baker ten delegates were appointed from the county at large and three from each district. Delegates at Large—Win. J. Purdy, II. Delegates at Large—Win. J. Purdy, II. tions in this country, a pecially with regard to the "colorless respectabilities," as it calls them, who have so often been elected to office since the days of Adams and Jefferson, and in commenting upon the causes of the sterility, tells some very plain home truths, which are specially remarkable as coming from an English spectator of our national system of politics. The Times says:

spectator of our national system of politics. The Twee says:

How to use all the forms of democratic rule so that millions of people shall mominally be free to choose any person and yet in reality he as clearly forced to accept a particular man as if they lived under an iron deepottem, is a problem which the wirepullers of the United States have solved with such skill as to be beyond the language of adulation. Augustus himself did not so adroitly drape absolute power under the forms of freedom. He was a mere hangler compared with the unknown "politicians" who will form the National Republican and the National Democratic Conventions. The members of these bodies will show that the manipulation of popular votes, so far from being governed by the rule-of-thumb, is really a branch of applied mathematics. The elementary principles of the science are simple. The first rule is, that the worst of all candidates would be men like Mr. Adams or Mr. Motley, because, being perverted by dignity, strong convictions, and high culture, they have made, or will make, wany enemies, and would not obey the word of command. They would be too independent to follow party managers for whom they would certainly feel a profound disceppect. Perhaps they might also refuse to "stump" half-adocan States for any opinion but their own, and their own would certainly feel a profound disceppect. Perhaps they might also refuse to "stump" half-adocan States for any opinion but their own, and their own of the bustling, skillful "polititians" to whom they would ever the White House, would they put the patronage and the powers of the State at the command of the bustling, skillful "polititians" to whom they would owe their sovereignty. As candidates they would split up their party, and as Presidents they would be too court defeat, and, even in the improbable event of victory, to sacrifice its fruits.

The Tow-Boat System.

"Her trip from Pittsburgh, Pa., is a most extraordinary one in the way of freight, and plainly shows the fine management of her officers. She left Pittsburgh with ten loaded barges. She left two at Cairo, containing 4,600 bars railroad iron, 1,134 tons, left four at Memphis, containing 60,000 bundles cotton ties, $13 bars railroad iron, and 150 tons iron, mild and glass, making 2,055 tons in all; left one barge at Bayou Sara, containing 133,000 fire brick, of 400 tons, and brought to this city two large barges, containing 133,000 fire brick, of 400 tons, and brought to this city two large barges, containing 5,233 steel rails, and 169 tons of miscellaneous freight, 132 bales of cotton and 21 blads, tobacco. The above is the largest load of manufactured articles by any one steamboat, and her officers deserve all the praise that can be showered on them, for the skill they have displayed in bringing and delivering all safely at their respective points of destination. Capt. J. H. Dunlap is along with the Iron Mountain, and is a good assistant to Capt, Gray."

apt. Gray. Appropos to the above in regard to the Iron Mountain, the St. Louis Republican, of the 18th, speaks of the barge system in unnection with towboats as follows:

The barge system will continue to grow and spread on the Western rivers. What is to hinder the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company, of St. Louis, hereafter, from running small towboats and barges, or even large craft, up the Illinois and Missouri, the Mississippi above St. Louis, the Ohio, Comberland, Tennessee, Wabash, Arkunsas, White and Yaroo? Their towboat Bee has just left Cairro for New Orleans. Her tow included a barge loaded with 1,000 tons of ice, and one which was loaded at Paducah with tobacco, etc, and towed to her at Cairo by a smaller towboat, and the small towboat Wild Boy was taken into service and sent smaller towbost, and the small towbost. Wild Boy was taken into service and sent to Buffalo Island with a barge to be loaded with corn for the Bee, bound to New Orleans. The Bee will take into the harbor of New Orleans this trip four or five thousand tons of merchandiso. The towboat system beats all other methods of effecting cheap transportation. St. Louis, with her barge enterprises, is following close on the heels of Pittsburgh's famous coal transportation fleets, one of the hast of which, that of Jos. Williams, carried from Louisville to New Orleans 22,000 tons of coal. At some future time, not tons of coal. At some future time, not distant, there will be "millions in it."

From some remarks in the U.S. Senate, on Wednesday, there would seem to be danger of revising the political history of this country on a very important point.

Mr. Thurman moved a reconsideration of the vote by which Mr. Morton's bill leading of climbing making it valuations. FROM some remarks in the U. S. Senate, electoral vote was passed, his house that jeet being to so change the measure that it would stand a better chance of passing the control of the following debate then ensued:

Mr. Morton spoke at some length as to the necessity of having a new law on this subject, and said, that since the bill had passed the Senate, a circumstance had been discovered which would startle the country when made public.

Mr. Bayard inquired as to the nature of it.

Mr. Morton said that he would not report of the Bank of France shows:

there is a choice variety in poetry.

The Popular Science Monthly contains twelve articles, covering an extended field of scientific thought. Among the most interesting articles are: "Society an Organism," by Herbert Spencer, "Hammers and Percussion," by the Rev. Arthur Rigg, M. Lippincott continues its interesting serial on "The Century, its fruits and festivals." It also has an illustrated article on "Gilimpses of Constantinople," which is quite interesting; "Berlin and Vienna" will repay perusal. "An Old House and its Story" gives us some interesting and heretofore unpublished facts concerning Benedict Arnold. There is a well-written article on George Ticknor, by F. S. Perry, anecdotical as well as critical. The number contains also poems by Sidney Lanier, Emma Lazarus, and Margaret Preston, and many good things in the "Monthly Gossip."

Scribner's keeps up the reputation with

"Monthly Gossip."

Scribar's keeps up the reputation with the May number. The first article is a "Portraiture of William Penn;" it is finely illustrated and gives many entertaining Centennial reminiscences. "Bowdoin College" comes in this month in the list of American colleges described, and there is sandwiched into the article anecdotes of Hawthorne, Longfellow and others known to fame. "Hearing with the Eyes" is an illustrated philosophical article. "John Gutenberg" tells a great deal about printing. The "Revolutionary Letters" are concluded, and there are several small poems of worth. The Editorial Departments are up to the standitorial Departments are up to the stand

T. H. Lopen, Eq.:

Dear-Health wrole to you some time since for a bottle of Brentlinger's Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla, and must say that it has acted upon me like a chann. I have been attlicted for pear two years with Dyspepsia; two-thirds of the time I woulded from one to three limes a day. I had given up the idea of ever getting seel, and my ever getting well again, Added to this, I mellered with Scrobia rely much. Since last September one adde of my neck was one cutter sore. The use of one bottle has much improved me, my stomach is apparently relevel; my neck has improved beyond my most anguine expectations. I feel much encouraged, and think by the use of one or two bottles more is shall be relieved entirely. You will please send me two bottles, I want to give its fair trial. Send by one of the boats.

Yours, respectfully,
